William Wrigley, a Builder.
Revolutions and Troubles.
Science Marches On.
Heat Conquers Disease.

By ARTHUR HUBBARD

ANGELES, Jan. 27.—William Wrigley Jr., having worked nearly a day of his 70 years in the tobacco business, is dead of heart failure with his wife and children at his side.

Wrigley, a typical American builder, developed and helped build great industries, built great cities, and developed California, establishing a steamship line from the island to the mainland. He gave work to thousands of men and women, profits that shared with him as well.

He could return and live in his home, but he would select the same kind.

THE REVOLUTION in Salvador is one for the size of the class. Dispatches tell of fighting against the people and 2,000 killed in the city.

THE CHINESE-JAPANESE war, which the Japanese people, Chinese territory, becomes a national issue. There is no doubt that Japan intends to have Asia repeat itself. It has been necessary, during more than 2,000 years, for the fighting power in Asia to help itself to the power of China. Japan will not let this happen.

THE CHINESE people, overgrown by the ancient dinosaurs and apparently unable to protect themselves, are nevertheless capable of great hatred and deep contempt. The practical conquest of China by Japan may be a consequence of the Asiatic question.

Nations' Marines Ordered To Defend Foreign Settlement in Shanghai.

CHINESE GIRL FOR FIGHT

Japan To Meet Resistance if Threatened Invasion Is Made.

By The Associated Press
SHANGHAI, Jan. 27.—A force of about 2,400 United States and British marines prepared today to take over defense of the international settlement in Shanghai as approximately 10,000 Chinese troops moved apparently to defend the city from occupation by the Japanese.

Ultimatum Issued
Kuramatsu Marai, Japanese consul-general, handed a new note to Mayor Wu Teh-Chen today demanding unconditional acceptance of the Japanese demand for dissolution of anti-Japanese organizations in Shanghai. The note was in the nature of an ultimatum. It gave the mayor until 6 p. m. tomorrow to reply.

Japanese consular officials said a representative of Mayor Wu Teh-Chen had stated unofficially that demands for suppression of anti-Japanese societies would be met. However, it was learned the Japanese had begun to evacuate their nationals from nearby places in the Yangtze valley, and United States troops began to erect barbed wire entanglements along the boundaries of the settlement.

The Chinese forces showed a determined attitude to bottle up the city, and began open efforts to meet invasion. Military patrols were established outside the city in a long line surrounding both the foreign and Chinese areas.

Authorities of the foreign settlement recommended foreigners to stay within the settlement boundaries.

Barbed wire entanglements and sandbag barricades were erected by the Chinese along their outposts and a few Japanese trenches were dug. Except in a few places, the Chinese forward line was a long distance from the settlement.

Manila, Jan. 27.—Rumors were circulated today that ships of the United States Asiatic fleet were prepared to sail from here to Shanghai, where clashes have been threatened between Japanese and Chinese and barricades have been built around the foreign section.

Tokyo, Jan. 27.—Machine guns rattled and rifles cracked around Harbin, Manchuria, today, discharges from there said, in a pitched battle between the forces of Yu Shen-Cheng, aspirant to the governorship of Kirin province, and those of Ting-Chao, former ally of Marshall Chang Hsiao-Liang.

MOTHER LAYS BASIS FOR INSANITY PLEA

Defense Starts Effort To Put Winnie Ruth Judd in Asylum.

PHOENIX, Ariz., Jan. 27.—The gray-haired mother of Mrs. Winnie Ruth Judd laid the foundation for the insanity plea to be made for the confessed slayer. Slowly, Mrs. Carrie McKinnell, wife of a retired druggist, Ind., minister, yesterday revealed the erratic career of her daughter, climaxed with the alleged murder of Mrs. Agnes Anne Le Roi and Miss Hedvig Samuelson, once her closest friends.

She told of the youthful halcyon days of Mrs. Judd that she was a mother, and that there had been insanity in the family. Today the defense was to call its psychiatrists, and from their testimony to complete the case, many hopes to result in confinement of Mrs. Judd to an asylum. The state asks the penalty of death.

Mrs. Judd created a scene during a recess yesterday when she accused Sheriff J. R. McFadden of intimidating defense witnesses. The state charges jealousy over J. J. Halloran, wealthy Phoenix lumber dealer, led Mrs. Judd to slay the two women.

Case Grew Out of Attempt to Gain Prisoner's Release from Pen.

By The Associated Press
LIMA, O., Jan. 27.—A second once-prominent Ohio politician faced arraignment today on a charge of accepting money to obtain release of an Ohio penitentiary convict.

Alvin C. Jones of Toledo, was under technical arrest pending arraignment here. John H. Williamson of Findlay was released on $500 bond after pleading not guilty yesterday. Jones formerly was a Republican councilman at Toledo.

Williamson formerly was chairman of the Hancock county Republican executive committee, and campaign manager for Myers V. Cooper in northwestern Ohio when Cooper ran for governor.

Indictments against them were returned by the Allen county grand jury charging they obtained money under false pretenses from Mrs. Nettie Williams of Lima, in an unsuccessful effort to obtain release of her brother, Lloyd Ezekiel, who is serving a 20-year term for criminal assault.

Like Williamson, Jones protected his innocence. He said he accepted $200 from Mrs. Williams for expense in investigating the case, adding he made eight trips to Columbus, four to Lima and two to Findlay in efforts to help Ezekiel, who claimed he was "framed."

Sheriff Orville A. Willford of Hancock county, said Williamson told of receiving $500 from Mrs. Williams as expense money, which he planned to return when he failed to have the prisoner's sentence commuted.

SANDUSKY, O., Jan. 27.—Too much interference by Ohio government was labeled as the cause of the failure of the Ohio Soldiers' and Sailors' home today by Hugo S. Schaefelberger, commander of the Sandusky post of the American Legion.

MANUFACTURER KIDNAP VICTIM

South Bend Man Abducted on Way Home from Theater.

By The Associated Press
SOUTH BEND, Ind., Jan. 27.—Howard Woolverton, 52-year-old manufacturer and son of a bank president, was held for $50,000 ransom today by two men who kidnaped him while he was on his way home from a theater last night.

Mrs. Florence Woolverton, 49, was abducted with her husband, released later and given a note containing directions for leaving the money in a designated spot and setting tonight as the deadline for delivery of the ransom.

An occurrence coincident with the kidnapping, but on the significance of which police declined to speculate, was the "jamming" of the police telephone switchboard. At the time neither incoming nor outgoing calls could be handled.

Mrs. Woolverton told police that their automobile in which she and her husband were returning from the theater was crowded to the curb near their home, by the kidnapers' car. A man leaped aboard, gun in hand, and forced them to drive across town, trailed by the other car. Then on a lonely road, both cars were stopped, and Woolverton ordered out of his automobile and forced him into their car.

RAIL WORKERS HOLD BACK PAY DECISION

Eleven Unions Continue Deliberations Over Cut Proposal.

By The Associated Press
CHICAGO, Jan. 27.—Railway labor struck out anew today to break down the barrier of displeasure over unfulfilled job demands, in the way of a decision on a $215,000,000 wage cut.

Ten unions have voted but the remaining 11, after a day and a night of strenuous discussion, announced they could not decide and went to it again.

The barrier, leaders said, was the railroads' refusal to guarantee the same number of jobs that existed in 1930. Offering instead to stabilize work "as conditions justify."

DETERMINE CAUSE OF RAIL ACCIDENT

Speed of Train and Faulty Part Responsible for Derailment.

After an investigation yesterday afternoon at the scene of the derailment early last Friday morning of a Big Four freight train just west of Canton, Big Four and Erie railroad officials came to the conclusion that the excessive speed of the train, coupled with faulty mechanism of a freight car, was the cause.

As close as can be estimated, officials said, the train was operating at a speed of about 65 miles an hour when one of the about 60 cars in the train left the track, riding on the ties for a short distance before it derailed 28 other cars. The speed alone would not have caused any derailment, railroad officials said, but was a contributing factor when the first car left the tracks.

No further action will be taken concerning the mishap, officials indicated today.

T. J. Hayes of Bellefontaine, division superintendent of the Big Four, and H. E. Wilson, Kent division superintendent of the Erie, headed the investigation party. Other officers included J. E. Kiesel, Big Four division engineer at Bellefontaine; J. B. Ellis, Big Four freight agent here; C. A. Murtough of the Erie division engineer's department here and F. T. Carroll, Erie trainmaster here.

The Stars Say—

For Thursday, Jan. 28

A REMARKABLY lively and important day is shown from the very significant rule of the major planets. There is likely to be a sudden and radical change in the affairs, with travel, new employment, promotion, preferment, honors for those in high places and renewed contrast, but in these be cautious as to misrepresentation and law. Also be careful with slightly propitious and gambles.

Those whose birthday it is are on the eye of a most important year, with possibly a general about-face in all their affairs—business, private relations, residence, employment; and aside from certain dangers of fraud or misrepresentation in signing papers and consequent litigation, there is promise of most propitious conditions. Advancement, honors, favors, pleasures, happy change and travel. Be cautious as to gambling or shaky propositions or uncertain investments. A child born on this day should be enterprising, original, independent, ambitious and should attain important position in life, with honors and confidence of those in power.

Notable nativity: Henry M. Stanley, explorer.

CITY ADDS 90 MEN TO EMPLOYED LIST

144 Unemployed Heads of Families Now Being Given Work.

The addition of 90 unemployed men to the 54 now being given work by the city, was announced today by Service Director E. O. Unepher. The new group will work under the same plan adopted when the 54 were put to work a week ago. The stagger system will be used, each man will be given one day's work each week for two consecutive weeks for which he will be paid with grocery orders while on the third week he will be given two days' work for which he will be paid in cash.

With the addition of the 90 men, the city will be giving out time labor to 144 unemployed men and in addition will be removing from the list obtaining help from Relief Commissioner C. M. Tobin, 48 families each week since the week in which the men are paid in cash they will not be given grocery orders.

The service director also announced that the groups would be changed each three weeks, providing work for more men.

Each group on the day they are to be paid with grocery orders, will be given work which cannot be paid for out of the gasoline tax while on the week they were to be paid in cash, they will be given work which can be paid for out of this fund.

The plan which now has been in operation for a week was declared by Mayor W. C. Phillips as well as the service director, to have proven satisfactory. The men are anxious to work they said, and with the prospect in view of getting two days pay in cash on the third week, are faithful in their work on the days when they are paid with grocery orders.

The additional 90 men the service director said, have been selected by Relief Commissioner C. M. Tobin and as the changes are made each three weeks, men will be accepted from a list furnished by the relief commissioner.

Members of 344th Legion Post No. 162, American Legion, observed Americanization day yesterday with a special program at the Legion dugout on High street last night.

An address by Asa C. Queen, a member of the post, who took as the subject of his talk "Americanization" was the principal feature of the program. The need of loyalty not only to the nation but to the community, was stressed by Mr. Queen. Plans were being made today by other members of the post to have the address printed in the two American Legion publications.

The presentation of cups to the Lashy Dairy Co. and to the Star of Lumber Co., who won first honors in the Armistice day parade Nov. 11, was also a feature of the meeting. The cups were presented by Commander J. W. Llewellyn and were received by Edward L. Jones of the dairy company and L. Don Jones representing the lumber company. The cup was awarded the Lashy Dairy Co. for having the best commercial float and the Star of Lumber Co. for the best patriotic float.

Gene Hill, chairman of the intensive membership campaign started by the post Saturday night, reported satisfactory progress and it was decided to continue the drive until the next meeting on Feb. 9.

The February meeting, it was announced by Commander Llewellyn this morning, will be a joint meeting of the Legion and members of the auxiliary and will be featured by an address by Mrs. J. Edward Jones of Massillon, department president of the auxiliary. Guests will be wives of Legionnaires who are not now members of the auxiliary.

LANSING, Mich., Jan. 27.—A five-year-old grievance of a man driven insane by business reverses was ascribed today for the brief reign of terror which brought death to two men and injuries to four other persons in a crowded bank lobby yesterday.

D. J. Mead, 53, member of a once wealthy family, entered Lansing's largest bank, the Capital National, drew a pistol, shouted, "This town has given me a dirty deal; where is the big shot?" and opened fire.

The shots left B. W. Nichols, 20, dying and three other men and a woman wounded. Then as David M. Timmons, wounded special bank policeman, struggled to return the fire with a jammed pistol, Mead placed the muzzle of his gun in his mouth and killed himself.

AMERICANIZATION
THEME OF MEETING

Legion Post Members Hear
Talk on Patriotism by
Aas C. Queen.

Members of Bird-McGinnis Post No. 162, American Legion, observed Americanization day yesterday with a special program at the Legion dugout on High street last night.

An address by Aas C. Queen, a member of the post, who took as the subject of his talk "Americanization" was the principal feature of the program. The need of loyalty not only to the nation but to the community, was stressed by Mr. Queen. Plans were being made today by other members of the post to have the address printed in the two American Legion publications.

The presentation of cups to the Italy Dairy Co. and to the Siamer Lumber Co., who won first honors in the Americanization day parade Nov. 11, was also a feature of the meeting. The cups were presented by Commander J. W. Jewell and were received by Edward Gimpel of the dairy company and L. Don Jones representing the lumber company. The cup was awarded the Italy Dairy Co. for having the best commercial float and the Siamer Lumber Co. for the best patriotic float.

Gene Hill, chairman of the intensive membership campaign started by the post Saturday night, was decided to continue the drive until the next meeting on Feb. 6.

The February meeting, it was announced by Commander Jewell this morning, will be a joint meeting of the Legion and members of the auxiliary and will be featured by an address by Mrs. J. Edward Jones of Massillon, department president of the auxiliary. Guests will be wives of Legionnaires who are not now members of the auxiliary.

ASKS FOR RECORDS
ON LIQUOR CHARGE

Kalkbrenner and Nick-lose Cases.

The Third district court of appeals has asked Everett B. Grigsby, clerk of courts, to certify certain records in the cases of Herman Kalkbrenner and Frank Nicklose, both of Marion, charged with illegal possession of intoxicants, in preparation for a hearing of these cases Feb. 2.

Both Kalkbrenner and Nicklose were fined in municipal court following raids of state and local officials. They asked the common pleas court to reverse the finding of the lower court, but Judge George B. Scofield recently affirmed the municipal court decision.

AMBULANCE CASE
VERDICT UPHeld

COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 27.—The Ohio supreme court today refused to review a case submitted from Butler county involving whether an ambulance, under orders of police on an emergency case, is required to observe speed laws and maintain thoroughfare stop signs.

The decision in effect affirms a judgment of $3,000 awarded Charles G. Doty, Middletown milk wagon driver, against Walter N. McCoy, a Middletown undertaker, in common pleas court. The appellate court affirmed the judgment.

Doty was thrown from his wagon and injured when it was struck by one of McCoy's automobiles carrying Mrs. Tom Palmer, of Middletown, from an automobile accident to a hospital. She was thrown from the ambulance and later died.

BANK LOBBY SCENE OF DOUBLE KILLING

By The Associated Press
LANSING, Mich., Jan. 27.—A five-year-old grievance of a man driven insane by business reverses was ascribed today for the brief reign of terror which brought death to two men and injuries to four other persons in a crowded bank lobby yesterday.

D. J. Mead, 53, member of a once wealthy family, entered Lansing's largest bank, the Capital National, drew a pistol, shouted, "This town has given me a dirty deal; where is the big shot?" and opened fire.

The shots left B. W. Nichols, 29, dying and three other men and a woman wounded. Then as David M. Timmons, wounded special bank policeman, struggled to return the fire with a jammed pistol, Mead placed the muzzle of his gun in his mouth and killed himself.

Police said both were wrong since one started before receiving the "go" and the other failed to stop.

Soldier, Veteran Attorney Will Be Honored by Bar Association

Special to The Star
KENTON, Jan. 27.—John H. Smick, veteran attorney and Civil War veteran, will be honored guest Friday at a dinner to be served by the Hardin County Bar association in the Spring Grove Golf club. The affair will mark the eighty-fourth birthday anniversary of the barrister.

At the age of 16, Smick enlisted in the 2nd Ohio Volunteer cavalry at Canton where he was born, and served throughout the war under the leadership of General Phil Sheridan.

At the close of hostilities he moved to Ada with his parents and was graduated from the law college there. It was in 1875 that he was admitted to practice law in Ohio and four years later was elected Hardin county prosecutor, which office he filled for two terms. He later formed the law firm of Smick & Hoge, joining with Judge Hamilton E. Hoge in the practice of law. Despite his advanced age, Smick is active in his profession and daily can be seen busily engaged in his office. He is not only president of the bar association, but is commander of the Cantwell post of the G. A. R.

If your skin is yellow—complexion pallid—tongue coated—apoor—poor—you have a bad taste in your mouth—a lazy, no-good feeling—you should try Olive Tablets.

Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets—a substitute for calomel—were prepared by Dr. Edwards after 20 years of study.

Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound. Know them by their olive color.

Take a clear, pink skin, bright eyes, no pimples, a feeling of buoyancy like childhood days, you must get at the cause.

"WHAT I know about making cigarettes...doesn't amount to anything at all! But I'm a good enough cook to be sure of this...You can't get a thing to taste good...unless you use fine ingredients."

"And what's more...you have to know just how to combine them."

"It must have taken an amazing knowledge of tobacco flavors...to work out that recipe for Chesterfield's good taste."

"Just as in a pudding...the proof of any cigarette...lies in the taste."

"Recently I tried Chesterfields for the first time. Right away, I knew that such taste and fragrance had to come from grade A ingredients...to say nothing of a carefully worked out recipe for combining them."

"Then, too, I found Chesterfields milder. I didn't know a cigarette could be so mild and at the same time so good-tasting."

"And have you noticed the paper? Pure white. I'm told it's the purest paper that can be bought."

"Even the package is whiter and cleaner-looking. Little things, I suppose, but I'm cook enough to know that purity and cleanliness must count in cigarettes too."

She is one of 75 county representatives who are collecting books in their own counties. Mrs. Depew is chairman of a committee of 25 specialists in various fields who are gathering data on Ohio authors whose work has literary, historical, or scientific merit.

The collection is known as the Martha Kenney Cooper Ohioana library, named for Mrs. Myers Y. Cooper, who founded the library in 1929. Plans for a permanent home for the books were made at the meeting Saturday. The group will ask the state library board to set aside in Ohioana alcove in the state library in the new state office building. Only a small collection of rare Ohioana books will be kept in the Governor's mansion. This small collection will include Emerson's "Book of Maps," contributed by the Marion committee through the cooperation of the Marion County Federation of Women's clubs.

To make Children
EAT

Don't force children to eat! The girl or boy who has no appetite has stasis—which means the child is sluggish. But cathartics have caused more constipation than they ever cured! The "California treatment" is best—just pure fig syrup. Try this for a few days then see how eagerly your youngster will eat.

How to Conquer
Sluggishness

Stimulate the colon and that child with a finicky appetite will devour everything set before him. Here's the simple treatment that does more for babies or older children than all the diets, fast foods, or tonics.

Nature has provided the only "medicine" you'll need to stir a child's colon muscles into proper action. California fig syrup. Pure, delicious, harmless. It acts on the lower colon—where the trouble is. It has no ill effects on the intestines.

Begin tonight, with this marvelous "California treatment." Any druggist has California fig syrup, all bottled, with directions. Use enough the first time to cleanse the clogged colon of every bit of poison and hard waste. Then just a little twice a week until the child's appetite, color, weight and spirits tell you the stasis is gone. Whenever a cold or other upset clogs the system again, use this natural vegetable laxative instead of drastic drugs.

WARNING

There are dealers who practice substitution. Be sure to protect your child by looking for the name CALIFORNIA on the bottle.

PEG: Imagine it! A nice girl like Anne wearing her underthings a second day.

FRAN: And she's so dainty in other ways...

PEG: Of course, she's awfully busy—

FRAN: But our way is so quick and easy! It just floats out the perspiration acids and odors... why doesn't she

Protect daintiness this simple 4-minute way:

All day long underthings absorb perspiration. To avoid offending, dainty women wash them in Lux after every wearing. Lux is especially made to remove perspiration acids and odors completely, yet to protect colors and fabrics. And it takes only 4 minutes, or less!

Wash this 4-minute way:

1. One tablespoon of Lux does all one day's underthings—stockings, too.
2. Squeeze suds through garment, rinse twice, shake out.

Wash after each wearing for perspiration acids left in silk fade colors and rot the threads. With Lux it takes only a few minutes—less time than it takes to wash your face and hands.

Never rub dainty lingerie with cake soap. Rubbing tends to streak colors and weaken fabrics. Lux removes perspiration acids and odors completely—yet leaves colors like new. If it's safe in water alone, it's just as safe in Lux.

Don't use too-warm water. Lux gives instant suds in lukewarm water, won't fade colors or shrink fabrics.

BOY CRAZY

by GRACE PERKINS

SYNOPSIS
A free-for-all. The crowd continues to gather on the Ross estate, and Hope wanders from guest to guest. She stays longest with Rusty, who wants her to marry him.

CHAPTER THREE
HOPE rapped on:
Oh, there's Max. You know, Max. Sure, we'll dance. Isn't that a grand orchestra? They are going to play at Post Lodge this winter.
Oh, don't hold me so close. M-a-a-x, you're crushing my flowers. Well, even if you do send some, that will be tomorrow and I want these tonight.
Papa Ross, his face shadowed by the visor of his commodore's cap, sat on the railing of the broad white veranda, and gazed down on the party.
"Look at the way he watches her," whispered the weeping willow with a sigh. "Such love can be un-reasoning and blindly cruel."
"Yes, yes," chattered the brook shrilly "she's his baby, you know. She's his baby, and his world is wrapped up in her."
"She's boy crazy. That's it," breathed the late roses, the cosmos, the asters and the huge bushes of the party.

golden glow. "She's just boy crazy."
School was a side-line. A little planning took care of such an atrocious and insane slavery. Hope had been brought up by Frauleins and Mademoiselles, and in her childhood had traveled abroad, spending entire winters on the Riviera before the span of peculiar years that were known as the World War. Hence, Hope's ability in French and German were accepted matters, and English and history could be magnificently faked. Good old Max could be counted on for mathematics, and one of the girls who longed to be in Hope's set obligingly did her Latin for her.
The autumn, then, was fairly free for more engrossing matters. Football games, and their proper sport costumes, an unforgettable trip to Yale for an afternoon in the Bowl, and evenings at fraternally dances; shopping; theaters; Thanksgiving, divine week-ends; miserable vocal lessons; and swell elegant dancing lessons—all these things kept Hope busy from 7 or 10 a. m. until 11 or 2 at night.
An outstanding brace of important problems occupied Hope's mind, particularly, however, both problems involving the party at Placid. Whom to invite when one only had the privilege of six couples—five really, since Goody had to be included.
Not that Hope disliked her sister. Far from it. Hope would have been glad of companionship at home, but all her varied advances had been sulky and a bit rudely snubbed. Hope had shrugged off Goody's sarcastic criticism with a fippant shoulder. It humiliated Hope that her sister, of all people, should deliberately remain a dud! And she couldn't help grimacing when Goody would stuff away chocolates and pastries and then wait because she had to amble to the women's department for dresses or call in a seamstress to copy some hopelessly coy model in a size that would have caused its designer to faint.
Take this Placid party, for example! Why should Hope have to sigh over Goody's presence? Visualizing how Mama would back up each pale-lipped complaint that Goody would be bound to make? "Cause you want a wet blanket like Goody around with her prudish ideas?"
Goody herself inspired the solution.
Her soft-eyed humble admiration of Charlie Rand was nothing short of disgraceful in Hope's private little circle. Everyone saw it! Everyone that is, except Charlie, who mooned around Hope, throughout the entire fall, grateful for what small favors she cast his way.
Mama and Papa Ross saw Goody's infatuation, and became highly chirpy over the idea of a romance for their forlorn and neglected 20-year-old spinster. Charlie Rand was invited to dinner! "Charlie was offered opera tickets in the nights that Papa Ross was so busy."
Hope dabbled in intrigue, delighting, merely for thrill, in treat-

FAVORITE SON

Harry Flood Byrd, former governor of Virginia and vice chairman of the Democratic national committee, was endorsed for the Democratic nomination for President by the general assembly of Virginia.

Underwood struck in a bit impatiently:
"Well, all go up," he decided. "If the boys aren't in bed we can shift over to Mother Graham. The Chief's room is the best, the most secluded for a conference, anyway."
"Any recognizable signature to the thing?" Dicky asked, and I wondered if I imagined a strained note in his voice.
"No, it's in code, too. The only word in ordinary language is the first one, 'Tangent.'"
We filed silently, rapidly, up the stairs and down the corridor to my father's room in the wing. At his "come in" in response to Harry's knock, we found him by himself, in a luxurious Oriental lounging robe, and sandals, his favorite pipe in his mouth, his reading lamp drawn beside his easy chair, and a magazine in his hands. As he saw Lillian and me, he rose abruptly.
"Is anything wrong?" he said quickly.
"No, no," I answered, but Mr. Underwood amended my statement.
"Not that we know of," he said. "But I've just received a long telegram in code that I can't make anything of. I thought you ought to see it at once."
"Of course," My father stretched out his hand and, taking the paper, read it attentively twice. Then he rose, throwing a curt "lock the door" over his shoulder, and went over to a small trunk which always stands in his room, and which we all know contains a cleverly arranged secret compartment. After a tedious unhooking of numerous compartments, one fitting inside the other, the looking of that trunk would be a matter of time, he said aside a panel, and took from the recess the code book in which he has many relics of his secret service, many no longer in use, but still treasured by him.
"Queer that it should be hid dressed to you, Underwood," he said. "I'm sure the code I have here is known only to one other man and myself."
Underwood's Bewilderment
"I didn't know that it was," Mr.

Underwood confessed. "Katie brought it to me, and she can be counted on to get things mixed up if anybody can. I didn't even look at the superscription, but tore the thing open. I'm afraid the envelope's not much good now. He put his hand in his pocket, bringing out the torn envelope ruefully, but my father waved it aside.
"What does it matter?" he asked. "The telegram's here, so is the code, all we have to do is to put them together. But if it's the one I think it's an intricate thing that takes some time to work out. Clear the table for me, will you, darling?" he gestured to me—and we'll get to work."
I had his table cleared by the time he came back to his chair, and laid out a supply of pencils and note paper. Then we all sat back and watched while he looked through the code book, took out some closely written pages, compared them with the telegram, and uttered a little grunt of satisfaction.
Our Strain Tribute
"I thought this was it," he commented. "Now to work!" and he bent over the papers.
It was characteristic of the awe in which all who ever served under him, held "The Chief" that not one of us ventured to put the question that was on the verge of utterance with all of us.
"Who sent that telegram?" I wanted to shout, wished it so intently that I wondered for a panic-stricken instant if I actually had uttered the words. But I had not been guilty of so grave an indiscretion, and the soft swish of my father's pencil over the paper, scarcely audible, was the only sound.

"Six years ago I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for pains and cramps and it helped wonderfully."
"After my children were born, I tried to keep up, but I often had to lie down. I started taking the Vegetable Compound again to build me up."
"Since taking it, I feel like and look well. The Vegetable Compound is a good medicine. If any woman was as to me, I will answer her." Mrs. Iva Peterson, Box 48, St. George Road, Thomaston, Maine.

The Arrival of a Telegram in Code from Hugh Grantland Interrupts the Dinner.

AS Harry Underwood, with a quick perfunctory apology, tore open the yellow envelope which the telegraph messenger had just delivered, every eye at the table was turned to him. But while the young people were actuated only by the curiosity that every telegram brings, Dicky, Lillian and I watched him narrowly after the younger folk had returned to their windows. I knew that the rest had that sense of something vital, disturbing, in the room.
He read the contents slowly, his face unperturbed, but his eyebrows knitting as they always do when he is puzzled. Then he looked around the table.
"Sorry to disturb you people," he said, "but this is an urgent business telegram which must be handled at once."
He rose and, taking the paper, went over to a small trunk which always stands in his room, and which we all know contains a cleverly arranged secret compartment. After a tedious unhooking of numerous compartments, one fitting inside the other, the looking of that trunk would be a matter of time, he said aside a panel, and took from the recess the code book in which he has many relics of his secret service, many no longer in use, but still treasured by him.

Calvary Springs Surprise by Beating Christians, 39-32

CO-LEADERS LOSE IN OVERTIME CONFLICT

First Reformed Wins from Forest Lawn; Irish Beat United Brethren.

This Calvary Evangelical basketball team simply refused to be stopped. After having stepped out some time and walloped the defending champions, First Presbyterians, the Calvary boys came right back last night and put the skids under the Central Christian quintet, co-leaders of the league with the Epworth M. E. five. Before the 39-32 beating at the hands of the Calvary team, the Christians had not been beaten this season and had been figured as the principal obstacle to the Epworth and the First Reformed championship. The Calvary victory last night puts the Methodist in undisputed possession of first place in the league with five victories and no defeats.

Calvary gave no notice of its intention to beat the Christians last night until late in the game. The Christians stepped into the lead in the first period and ran up a 22-15 advantage by the time the first half was completed.

Calvary opened up in the third period and ran the score up to 24-23 by the end of the frame, although the Christians were still on the long end of the score at that time.

CHICAGO, Jan. 27.—A young champion from another billiard world taunted the masters of the three cushions who declared the touch with which he maneuvered the 15.2 balkline too delicate for their game.

With a spectacular flourish, Jake Schaefer, balkline ruler, last night defeated Bud Westhus of St. Louis, 80 to 23 in 31 innings, the most remarkable game of the world's three cushion billiard tournament, even though, in another, Arthur Turnblad of Chicago, the defending champion, boosted himself into a tie for the lead with Otto Reiser of Philadelphia by a victory over Tiff Denton of Kansas City.

Schaefer is still in the championship fight though tied for fifth place with Gus Copulos of Eugene, Ore., and Len Kenney of Chicago at three victories and two defeats. F. S. Scoville of Buffalo, virtually eliminated John Layton of Sedalia, Mo., by handing him his third defeat, 80 to 57 in 46 innings. Layton has held the title 10 times.

WRIGLEY'S SON GETS TASK OF BUILDING CUBS INTO CHAMPS

Bruin Owner Dies Before Realizing Cherished Baseball Ambition.

By William Weekes
Associated Press Sports Writer
CHICAGO, Jan. 27.—The job of making the Chicago Cubs baseball champions of the world—William Wrigley's most cherished dream—has been left to his son, Phil K.

From the time he became associated with major league baseball in 1915, Wrigley wanted a championship team, and nearly $4,000,000 was poured into the club toward that purpose. Manager followed manager—until Joe McCarthy was brought up from Louisville. McCarthy delivered to the extent of steering the Cubs to the national league championship in 1929, but after the team finished in second place in 1930, Rogers Hornsby became McCarthy's successor.

Wrigley personally handled the deal which brought Hornsby to the Cubs, and it was the most stupendous deal in baseball history. Around $250,000 in money and players were turned over to the Boston Braves.

Not all that Wrigley spent produced results so satisfying. It is said he dumped more than $400,000 into third basemen alone, in an attempt to find a star. He died without having found one, unless young Stanley Hack, purchased last fall from Sacramento of the Pacific coast league, delivers.

DRUMM VICTOR IN BILLIARD TOURNEY

Blanchard Drumm chalked up his second victory in three starts last night in the Ohio Pocket Billiards league by vanquishing Mr. Numan of Mt. Vernon 125 to 100. Drumm turned in the highest run of the match, 24, while the best Numan could do was 17 at a stretch.

Drumm will go to Newark tonight for his fourth match but his opponent has not been named.

PINEHURST TOURNEY IN SEMI-FINALS

PINEHURST, N. C., Jan. 27.—Henry C. Fowner, 2nd, of Pittsburgh, medalist, paired with Donald Parson of Youngstown, O., today in the semi-final round of the annual St. Valentine's golf tournament here.

Fowner defeated F. T. Keating, New York, 6 and 5, in the quarter final, while Parsons beat Howard G. Phillips, New York, 4 and 3.

Robert G. Morrison, Pittsburgh, last year's runner-up, was paired with Halbert J. Blue, Aberdeen, N. C.

MARION TO BID FOR SHORT SHIP RACING

Local Officials at State Meeting at Urbana, O.

Today.

Frank Foster, C. D. Mittenbuehler and J. J. Curl will attend the annual meeting of the Ohio Short Ship racing association today in Urbana, O., to present Marion's bid for short ship racing dates at the fairground oval next summer. Dates will be allotted at today's session.

Frank Foster, secretary of the local racing association, said yesterday that Marion would attempt to secure the summer meeting for Marion in the week following the Toledo Grand circuit races which will be held sometime in July. This would enable Marion to attract many of the Grand circuit horses which would not be brought here at any other time.

It is the expectation of the Marion racing association to continue the outstanding racing programs next summer which have been in vogue here for the last several years. Last summer's two meetings broke all records for attendance. Night racing was also inaugurated here last summer. All short ship events this year will be run at night, the lighting system at the fairground oval having proved highly successful last year.

INTEREST CENTERS ON MID-WEST STARS

By The Associated Press
NEWARK, N. J., Jan. 27.—Two mid-westerners, Ray Conger of the Illinois A. C. and Ralph Siskel of the University of Kansas, will be watched closely tonight at the annual indoor track and field meet of the Newark A. C.

Siskel, sprint champion of the Big Six conference, will compete in a special series against Ira Singer, national indoor 60 yard champion, Frank Hussey of New York, Bill Bruder of Newark, and Eddie Siegel of Swedish-American A. C.

Conger will make his season's debut and his first move toward a place on the American Olympic team in a 1,000 yard handicap event in which he will be matched against Frank Nordell of New York University and St. Clair Davidson of the Millrose A. A. will start from scratch. Conger is the national indoor 1,000 yard champion.

EAGLE TWO HELPS PERKINS WIN MATCH

By The Associated Press
MIAMI BEACH, Fla., Jan. 27.—A mauling approach shot that rolled into the cup, for an eagle two helped T. Phillips Perkins yesterday as he moved through the first day of the La Gorce Open amateur golf tournament by defeating H. B. Money of Wilmington, Del., 3 and 2.

Perkins, former British amateur champion, is a favorite in the first La Gorce tournament, opened to amateur golfers outside the membership of the exclusive club.

J. B. Ryerson of Cooperstown, N. Y., defending champion, eliminated John Brown of Portland, Maine, 2 and 1.

THREE CAGE GAMES BILLED AT WALDO

The Waldo and Marion Reformed Sunday school basketball teams will clash Wednesday night on the Waldo court in a first Reformed church inter-city basketball league game. These two teams are probably the two strongest in the league and a hard battle is expected.

Two other games will be played in connection with the above listed clash. The Marion Business college girls, conquerors of the strong Morral High school girls' team last week, will take on the Waldo Independent girls' team and the Intermediate boys' team of Marion and Waldo Reformed churches will play. The first of the three games will get under way at 7 p. m.

NORWEGIAN SKATE CHAMP TO RETIRE

By The Associated Press
NEW YORK, Jan. 27.—Sonja Henie, petite queen of the world's women figure skaters, plans to retire from competition either this year or next. And she doesn't plan to be married either.

The Harding Presidents---Will They Finish the First Half of the N. C. O. Race in First Place?

It's been some time since Marion has won a basketball championship in the N. C. O. league. In fact it's been some time since the Presidents have as much as come close.

The 1931-32 season championship campaign in the league is not completed yet by any means. This week will end the first half of the battle for honors. Right now Harding is in a triple deadlock for the highest post and incidentally, the Red and Black team has never yet been dislodged from the top post since the season got under way on Jan. 1.

Whether Harding will win the 1931-32 title is problematical. Day by day, or week by week if you will, the race grows hotter and hotter. There are six teams in the league and five of them can be counted as still in the race. And the sixth is fully capable of stepping out and knocking off some of the league leaders most any time. Harding will finish the first half of the chase for the crown Saturday night of this week by traveling to Mansfield to tackle another of the three league leaders, Mansfield. A victory for Harding will assure the Bohrer-coached team of no worse than a tie for the top as the first half ends.

SKI JUMPER HURT

Jap Olympic Star First Victim of Hazardous Sport.

By The Associated Press
LAKE PLACID, N. Y., Jan. 27.—Ski jumping has brought the first injury to one of the athletic training here for the Olympic winter games.

G. Adachi, of the Japanese team, fell on his face yesterday. It was feared his eyesight might suffer.

There was snow to spare and sparkling cold, and yesterday was the first day that all Olympic activities were in full swing since early this month.

Bobsled racing is holding interest because of the north American bobsled championships Friday and Saturday. The mile and a half run was ready for two-thirds of its length yesterday and the American sled riders especially were making the most of their opportunity.

King's Daughters Benefit Play To Go on Thursday

City Group To Stage Show for Its Charity and Hospital Work.

Tuneful melodies, clever dialogue and a campus love story are combined in the entertaining comedy, "The College Flapper," the benefit show to be presented Thursday afternoon and night at the Marion Steam Show Co. gymnasium under the auspices of the City Union, King's Daughters. A special matinee for children will be given Thursday at 4 p. m. City patrolmen will guard railroad crossings as children go to and from the entertainment. Pupils of the grades through the junior high school classes will be admitted to the matinee Thursday afternoon for 10 cents while high school pupils holding coupons will be admitted for 25 cents on Thursday night. Tickets held by the high school pupils may be reserved.

To Reserve Seats
Reservations for seats for the night performances opened today at Bartlett's drug store and indications are that the organization's charity work in the city and at the city hospital will benefit in a large measure by the project. The show is the second to be sponsored by King's Daughters. Last year members of the Whatover circle sponsored the presentation of "The Womanless Wedding," in which men of the city were the exclusive performers. This year all the circles of the city are joining in backing the project which has a cast of men, women and children. The comedy is directed by Miss Ann Drake of Fairfield, Ia., and Miss Mary McClintock of Little Rock, Ark., of the Universal Producing company. Mrs. French Crow, president of the City Union, King's Daughters, is general chairman in charge of plans for the presentation of the benefit show, "The College Flapper," sponsored by the organization.

Mrs. French Crow, above, president of the City Union, King's Daughters, is general chairman in charge of plans for the presentation of the benefit show, "The College Flapper," sponsored by the organization.

The production is a story of college life. The scene is laid in the drawingroom of a sorority house. Jerry, the star football player is supposed to be at a special football practice but instead is in the sorority house with his girl which is against the rules of the coach. In an attempt to escape being caught by the trainer, which would mean being expelled from school he hides in the housemother's room. A new housemother is expected to take the place of the old one and Jerry is mistaken for the new arrival when he appears dressed in women's clothes in an attempt to make his escape. Complications follow and at the last minute Jerry appears on the field to win the game. The love affair between Professor Gaddis and his first love, Dean Howard, provides humorous entanglements while others in the cast add their bit at just the right time.

Baby Pageant
A special baby pageant featuring a group of children will serve as a "curtain raiser" with Mrs. Bland Cressap as reader. The chorus of "College Flappers" composed of about 70 men of the city is one of the outstanding features of the production. Music also will be contributed by a glee club made up of sorority girls and the girls' chorus. Special musical numbers will include "Collegiate," "Who's Your Little Whoozie," "Out in the New Mown Hay," "Bressin' Along," "Who's That Pretty Baby?" and "Say It Again." Miss Virginia Grover will preside at the piano and the numbers will be augmented by an orchestra made up of high school musicians.

The part of Jerry, the star football player will be played by Robert Smith. Others in the cast are Dale Lambert, Charles Ellicker, Miss Elizabeth Carl, Don Millisor, Miss Ruth Louise Henderson, Miss Kathryn Eymon, Mrs. J. B. Bray, W. C. Boyd, E. H. Cowan, Mrs. Howard Swink, W. C. Dowler and Raymond Acker.
